Professor at UFMT | Researcher at CEIA and AKCIT
Barra do Garças, Mato Grosso, Brazil

Summary

As a Deep Learning Ph.D. with extensive expertise in Computer Science, I've spent over a decade as a professor at UFMT, where I taught mainly AI and mathematical disciplines. My career is marked across healthcare, entertainment, and agriculture, with companies such as Falconi, Moises.AI, NiceDay, Atto Intelligence, Unimed, Americas Health, and Brazillian Health Minister. This includes pioneering predictive analytics for healthcare, enhancing user experiences in digital platforms, and developing intelligent systems for operational efficiency and personalized care. These initiatives reflect my dedication to leveraging AI for significant societal impact. I'm driven by the pursuit of innovative solutions that challenge conventional approaches and foster technological advancement.
